FUTURES

Every year, the Pesticide Action Week presents an art contest for kids and teenagers to imagine the farming and the food of tomorrow.

THE RULES

Middle schoolers and high schoolers can participate. A teacher can register their class to participate. It is possible to participate individually.

You have until March 30th 2022 to create a piece following this year's theme in the medium of your choosing: drawing, sculpture, photo, music, writing...

Once you have created your piece, share a photograph of it on social media tagging the PAW accounts:

@SemaineAlterPesticides on Facebook

@Alter_Pesticide on Twitter

@alternatives_pesticides on Instagram

Making sure the posts are public

Then, the organisers of the event will choose the best pieces in every category (middle school on one side, high school on the other) and the winner will be receiving a prize from our partners!

All the information can be found at:
